London is the number 1 city
in the world for students – and at Greenwich, you get to experience the capital at its best.

A thriving global metropolis with something for everyone, London needs no introduction.

One of the many reasons students come to the University of Greenwich is its proximity to the attractions of central London and the beautiful countryside of Kent.

London is famous for being a thriving global metropolis with something for everyone. It is as renowned for its retail, restaurants, architecture and culture as it is for Buckingham Palace and Big Ben. Whether it's science, history, art, design or fashion that interests you, London has many world-class museums and galleries to explore - most of which are free!

Just outside London, the county of Kent boasts a wealth of scenic countryside and coastal resorts: tourist attractions include Leeds Castle and Canterbury Cathedral, and local towns have a range of shopping, entertainment and leisure choices on offer when you are taking a break from studying. Medway also has excellent links to the rest of the county, and the campus is close to the historic city of Rochester.

Museums and galleries

London has nearly 750 art galleries and museums – ranging from large institutions like the National Gallery, Tate Modern and Science Museum to small, specialist studios such as the Photographer's Gallery near Leicester Square and the Theatre Museum in Covent Garden.

Music

London offers everything from global artists performing in large stadiums to live bands playing in bars, pubs and clubs. International classical music, opera and ballet stars also perform throughout the year at the Royal Albert Hall, Barbican Centre and Royal Opera House.

Theatre and cinema

London has a thriving and diverse theatre life, with major musicals and plays running in the West End and independent productions in local theatres across the capital. You will also find cinemas showing everything from blockbusters to independent and arthouse productions. Cinemas in Greenwich include the Greenwich Picturehouse and a multiplex at the O2.

Shops

From chain stores on Oxford Street and upmarket shops in Covent Garden to open-air stalls and street markets throughout the city, London caters for every taste and budget. Further afield, Kent's enormous Bluewater shopping centre is only a train ride from Greenwich.
